NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

In consequence of the death of Doctor Curran, and the desire to record our opinion of his worth, the mechanical arrangements of this Number of the Journal have been somewhat interfered with by the introduction of his biography.

From the urgent necessity which at present exists of arousing the Members of the Medical Profession to a sense of their imminent peril, and in order to present those of our readers, who have not been able to follow in detail the remuneration question, as discussed in different Periodicals during the last three months, we have been induced to depart from our usual course of abstaining from medico-political questions in this Publication, and to admit Dr. Graves's letter on the conduct of the Board of Health, to which we beg to direct the special attention of our readers.

In consequence of these arrangements, and the large amount of Original Communications on hands, we have been compelled to omit several papers now in type. The Communications of Drs. Mayne and Purefoy, Mr. Cooper, and Mr. M'Garvey, shall appear in our February Number.

In concluding the second year of our New Series, we feel bound to express our obligations to our friends and Contributors for the very liberal support we have received. We also feel that we have more than fulfilled our engagements to our Subscribers, as set forth in our Preface and Prospectus, both in the quality and quantity of matter, and in the amount of Illustrations given in the Four Volumes now published; and, notwithstanding the assertion of the Editor of the late "British and Foreign Medical Review," that the New Journal about to be started in London will have no English rival, we would fain hope to merit the continued support of our brethren on the other side of the channel.

The subject of the Irish Medical Mortality continues to engage our attention, and we earnestly solicit the cooperation of our country brethren in our inquiries.

A List of Subscribers shall appear in the February Number; and we request those gentlemen throughout the country, who get their Journals through provincial booksellers, to forward their Names to us through the latter before the 1st of January next.

NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

COMMUNICATIONS which shall appear in our next Number have been received from Dr. Eben Watson of Glasgow, on "The Topical Treatment of Acute Inflammation of the Larynx and Trachea;" from Dr. Duchenne (de Boulogne), of Paris, "Electro-Physiological and Pathological Researches on the Individual Action and the Uses of the Muscles moving the Thumb and other Fingers;" from Staff Assistant-Surgeon W. F. Daniell, M. D., "On an Epidemic of Measles which prevailed among the Troops and the Natives at Accra;" and from Dr. Bowes Harrison, of Manchester, "On the Injurious Effects arising from the Manufacture of Lucifer Matches."

In consequence of the plan of our Journal, but a limited portion of each Number being allotted for Reviews, we have been hitherto unable to offer an opinion as to many works, more especially New Editions and Pamphlets, which are sent to us for Review; we have therefore decided to follow out the plan commenced in our present issue, of occasionally appending concise notices to the acknowledgment of their receipt in our List of Books Received. This arrangement will enable us to fulfil a duty to the Authors who forward to us their Publications, and will also render that part of our Journal, to a certain extent, a Bibliographical Record, which may prove of service to such of our readers as may desire to procure works on any special subject.

In our last Number a typographical error occurred in Dr. Lake's Case of Hernia of the Lung, the measurement of the wound should have been two, and not ten inches in length.

We have been latterly compelled, on several occasions, to decline releasing some of our American Exchanges, in consequence of the heavy postage which was charged upon them; this would be avoided by their being directed to our London Agents; we request the respective Editors to complete our sets by forwarding the deficient Numbers, as indicated in the Exchange List which precedes. The Northern European Journals reach us very irregularly. They should be transmitted for us to the care of "Messrs. Williams and Norgate, London." Our French, Belgian, Italian, and Spanish Correspondents are requested to communicate with us through "Docteur C. Higgins, 30, Rue Rivoli, Paris."
